LONDON, Sept. 17. (British Wireless Service).—With all his comrades killed or wounded, Corporal Kaebel of the Quebec Regiment remained on a trench parapet with his Lewis gun. Holding the gun at his hip he emptied magazine after magazine into the advancing enemy. He managed to hold up the trench mortally wounded. The Germans turned and retreated. Kaebel fired his last cartridge while lying on his back in the trench. The gallant Canadian, who has been decorated with the Victoria Cross, died from his wounds shortly afterward.

"Peace? Never!" Cry U. S. Troops Men Over There Flay Germans

By WEBB MILLER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—"No! No! No!" That is the cry of American fighting men—who have fought and been wounded and know what they are fighting for—to the Austrian proposal to talk things over.

In certain American hospitals I talked with more than a score of men who were wounded at St. Mihiel, the Vesle and at Soissons. I asked them what they thought of the Austrian peace move, from the standpoint of men doing the fighting. Of twenty-three men interviewed, all except two said: "Let's do the job first and talk afterward."

The other two said they had not seen a newspaper and did not make any statement until they knew what it was all about.

"I think it's only another peace dodge," said one rancher from California. "We've got to finish this job while we're at it. I live six thousand miles from here. Now I can't be coming back here every ten years or so. We'd better finish it now."

Everyone agreed in the belief that the Austrian proposition is inspired by Germany, that it is lacking in sincerity and is made for its effect upon world opinion.

"There's something tricky about it," declared a big miner from Northern Michigan.

"I'm fed up on the war. It's a dirty job, but we've got to stick until they take turkey. We came into the war for a certain purpose. We won't quit until it is done."

"It looks like this to me," said a farmer from Ohio, "if a man stabbed you in the back, then, after you'd finally got him down in a corner, wallowing him good and plenty, he'd say, 'Now, let's talk this over'—and he wants to keep the knife while he talks. I'd keep right on wallowing and say nothing."

All the men displayed the remarkable perception of what they are fighting for, which bodes ill for Germany.

QUETUS PUT ON AUSTRIAN PEACE MOVE

In Alsace-Lorraine, give small nations the right of self-determination, avoid punitive indemnities or annexations, establish a world peace league and free the universe of detrimental influences that could hereafter disrupt world peace.

America proposes to fight on. And having abandoned all hope of a negotiated peace, she will throw 4,000,000 men into the struggle next year to gain a military victory from which she and her allies can dictate the Wilson terms.

America's answer to Austria reads: "The government of the United States feels that there is only one reply which it can make to the suggestion of the Imperial Austria-Hungarian government. It has repeatedly and entirely repudiated the terms upon which the United States would consider peace and can and will entertain no proposal for a conference upon a basis of compromise which it has made its position and purpose so plain."

Secretary Lansing stated at his conference with newspaper men today that the official text of President's reply was being put into diplomatic form and would be handed to the Swedish minister for transmission during the course of the day. The reply would be published from the text made public as soon as it is in the hands of the Swedish diplomat the incident will be closed.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 17.—The German government had no previous knowledge of the note Austria-Hungary recently despatched, writing the belligerents to a conference, it is declared in "authoritative German circles," according to the Vienna newspapers.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—President Wilson speaks for the Allies, declared Lord Northcliffe, writing in the Evening News today relative to the American reply to the Austrian peace proposal.

"The only question here is how the refusal should be couched. A small, timid minority fears a flat rejection will drive Austria back into the arms of Germany, but the fact is Austria has never left them."

NOTE NOT UNEXPECTED.
PARIS, Sept. 17.—An official of the ministry of foreign affairs, interviewed by the United Press today, declared the Austrian note was not unexpected, in consequence of the pacifist campaign conducted by the speeches of Von Solt and Von Payer and the Czernin interview.

"Austria has been Germany's fidei-commissum since the Spa conference, when the question of a separate peace was upon between the two Kaisers," he said. "The recent meetings of Austrian and German statesmen, and the presence of Austrian troops on the west front are also conclusive evidence."

"The Austro-German aim is double. The first is the home viewpoint. They still want to believe they are not responsible for the continuation of the war. The second is the exterior viewpoint. They are trying to influence allied radicals and Socialists and even officials."

"Although aiming at the contrary, Germany's attempts will more than ever fail to produce among the allies any idea of a separate peace."

ROME, Sept. 17.—The Corriere Del Sera today sounded a warning in connection with the Austrian proposal for peace discussions.

"It is necessary to offer energetic resistance to the Austrian proposal because it is aimed at embroiling the belligerents at a decisive period," said the newspaper.

The Messaggero said: "The first condition of any discussion should be the Central powers' acceptance of the general principle of freedom and independence for every nation."

PLEA SENT TO VATICAN.
AMSTERDAM, Sept. 17.—The Austrian note to the Vatican announcing the government's desire for peace conversations, reads as follows:

"After four years of unheard-of struggle and gigantic sacrifices the battle which has been devastating Europe has not been able to bring about a decision. Animated by a spirit of conciliation which already has been expressed in its note of December 12, 1916, the Austro-Hungarian government has decided to approach all belligerent states and invite them to pave the way to a peace which will be honorable for all parties by a confidential and unbinding exchange of thoughts."

"Full of gratitude the Austro-Hungarian government hereby remembers that touching appeal which his holiness his pope sent to all belligerents last year with the exhortation that they seek an understanding and live again in brotherly concord. Firmly convinced that the Holy Father today also urges that suffering mankind will soon again enjoy the blessings of peace, we confidently hope he will sympathize with our note and support it with the moral influence which is recognized all over the world."

"Animated by this thought I request your excellency to submit the enclosed text of the note to his holiness."

"I've Discovered the Most Unique Way of Buying Clothes, Ethelia"

"Instead of saving for weeks and going shabby in the meantime, you just wear all the pretty things you want, when and where you want them. And you don't worry a bit about paying for them, either. You just make a small payment down and a little each week to suit. And the prices are not one bit higher than you'd have to pay in all-cash stores. It's great these war times to be able to use your credit like that. Plan to go with me tomorrow and see for yourself just what a few dollars will do by buying at Ethelia's. They have two stores here—a women's store at 515 18th and a men's store at 528 18th."—Advertiser.

CAMP KEARNY IS EQUIPPED LIKE BIG CITY

CAMP KEARNY, San Diego, Sept. 17.—Recruits who come here recently to begin their training for duty with the American forces overseas were being today of writing to their families and friends: "This is a fine camp" and searched for some detailed information concerning it to send in their letters.

Few of them, however, were so fortunate as to talk to an officer who possessed all the facts, else they might have found out something like this:

The section of the cantonment devoted to the reception of recruits is 1500 feet long on the side facing the parade ground and is 1500 feet long, roughly five miles by six city blocks.

The entire cantonment is approximately three miles from division headquarters to the offices of the regimental depot, and about one and three-quarters miles wide. The parade ground, from edge to edge of the cement road bounding it, is 7000 feet long and 1000 feet wide.

Throughout the main cantonment, mess halls, wash rooms and office structures, some storage facilities and shops, the infirmaries in each block, the recreation structures and the base hospital are frame structures. So are the barracks at the regimental depot. Everywhere else the men sleep under canvas.

In the recruit camp, the mess halls are outdoors and the kitchens are under canvas. There are 20 companies in the recruit camp, and their total enrollment when all quotas had arrived, was 1000 men. The three men came from Arizona, California, Colorado, California furnished 3500 and Utah 900.

Each company has its own street, 34 tents in two rows of equal length. California furnished 3500 and Utah 900. Each company has its own street, 34 tents in two rows of equal length.

The streets run north and south, and the orderly tent is at the north end. This is the only tent that street equipped with electric light, which is supplied for every tent in permanent portions of the camp, cooking in the recruit camp is done with wood, on field stoves, but in the main cantonment gas is used. The gas is piped from San Diego.

HUNS QUIT; SURRENDER IN 'BUNCHES'

AMERICAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN LORRAINE, Sept. 17. (Routier).—During the fighting in the St. Mihiel salient it has been noted that the enemy soldiers have shown an inclination to surrender in large batches. There has been a large proportion of "non-coms" among enemy troops taken captive.

An observer who has been several years at the front said today that he had never seen as many non-commissioned officers taken during the past few days. He said: "To those who know the German army this feature has special meaning, for it tells of the declining morale of the enemy forces. The strength of the German army lies in its non-commissioned officers and something plainly has gone wrong. The events of the past few days have been a very serious blow to German confidence."

VIENNA, via London, Sept. 17.—Italian patrols were repulsed in the Mori and Monte Cimones sectors, says an official statement today. In the Selti Communist (seven communists) several Italian thrusts failed but in the Brenta valley the enemy pressed an advance post back slightly.

In the Albanian coastal region the Italians have vainly attempted to recover ground won from them during the last two days.

ATTORNEYS CLASH AT RATE HEARING

service in the Diamond district, and improvement of the distributing system for Berkeley would all be halted. Green and Partridge had contended that until the San Pablo reservoir, now under construction, would be actually producing water, interest on the investment there during construction should not be included in the rate.

"If you eliminate San Pablo from the rate base," said Creed, "San Pablo stops. It can't go on and it won't go on. The company has certain other improvements that are necessary in the Eastbay district, but if the narrow and pessimistic policy of the rate fixing the rate, this construction work will not be done."

The cities are being opposed in their demand for relief by President W. B. Creed of the water company, appearing as counsel for the corporation. Creed declared at the hearing today that the company cannot continue to serve the Eastbay district unless it is given an adequate rate of return, and argued that this rate should be reduced below a schedule that will give the company a gross revenue this year of not less than $2,000,000. The necessity of a gross revenue of this amount was attacked by the cities, for Oakland and Berkeley, and the company was asked to produce detailed figures showing this to be the case.

UNUSED LANDS.

Attorney John S. Partridge, representing Oakland, demanded that in the rate fixing the rate, no allowance should be made to the company for interest on an investment of $4,000,000 in lands not used or usable for the showing purposes. He declared that the ratepayers had been paying interest toll on these lands for many years, despite the fact that the acquisition of the lands had been what is termed "real estate speculation," and not in any way connected with

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART,
IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. It attacks all classes, regardless of age, sex or conditions. A majority of the afflicted people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weakness, backache, stomach troubles, difficulty when urinating, pain in joints and lower abdomen, cold, gravel, rheumatism, scurvy and limb-aches.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Hiattman Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have taken hold. Go to your druggist today and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Hiattman Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL Hiattman Oil.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original Imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.—Advertisement.

HOLUB'S RUN TO EARTH ON BORDER LINE

John Holub, whose arrest was expected yesterday afternoon with the arrival of the Overland Limited at Sixteenth street, Oakland, on charges of having swindled two scores of society women of sums totaling $100,000, escaped the net placed for him here by an international detective agency, to run into another at El Paso as he was attempting to pass the international border into Mexico.

According to advices received here Holub anticipated his arrival on the Pacific coast and left the train at Denver, and by keeping the door of his drawing room locked, the officers who were awaiting a telegraphic warrant, believing he was still on the train, Holub then fled south to El Paso, where his arrest occurred through his ignorance of the stringent regulations applied to all crossing into Mexico.

The arrest was made at the request of District Attorney Swan of New York of the women victims complained that Holub had obtained $13,000 from her through representing that he had war insurance and would pay his investors 15 to 30 per cent a month. The interest was paid, but usually promptly re-invested with Holub.

Holub's first naturalization paper—his only one—indicated that he was native of Australia and came here from Hamburg, Germany, in 1902. Certificates were also found in the raid on his aeroplane and brokerage office, 437 Broadway, where under the alias of John Delube & Company, he was represented as being a member of the National Defense Society, National Security League and an active Liberty Loan worker.

STYLE REVUE TO BE OPEN TONIGHT

The Annual Style Revue of the H. C. Capwell Company, at Fourteenth and Clay streets will open this evening with scores of professional mannequins to display the fall fashions upon a beautifully set stage and promenade, extending throughout the second floor, where the display will take place. Undoubtedly the distinct changes in the fashions this year, void of all show or extreme design, but marked by the elegance and smartness of the modes, will bring many a surprise to the feminine element.

Fashion's dictates, which come from New York and the Parisian designers, as exemplified this evening, and tomorrow night by the living models, will create a furor of interest. The length of skirts, novelties, modes which have found favor with the populace heretofore and now strictly taboo, and their substitutes—these and many other innovations, all the result of military influence and the war will interest thousands who are to attend tonight. Invitations may be obtained at the store, as admission is by card only to permit of seating capacity.

Besides the showing of the winter modes, there are special features, a prologue, tableaux and other numbers between the seven episodes. An augmented orchestra is one of the most pleasurable features of the show.

This evening's showing will be bodice scenes, service and shopping costumes, dinner gowns, and evening wear, and the modes of "Jeune Filles," a new department which has just been opened this winter carrying a complete line of children's and misses' garments.

The curtain will rise at 8:15 sharp this evening. The remodeling of the second floor will accommodate 800 more persons than last season.

NAVIGATION CLASS TO OPEN TONIGHT

A class in navigation will be organized in room 44 of the Technical high school tonight at 7:15 o'clock. The class is formed in response to the rapid and steady increase in the demand for officers in the merchant marine. The course is divided into two sections; one section embraces students who desire to secure mate's licenses for ocean steam vessels, while the other division includes students who have had some experience and are eligible to secure master's license for ocean steam vessels.

A new course in Morse telegraphy has been organized at the school. Classes will meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of each week. Owing to the unusual calls for men who are familiar with telegraphic work this field offers an excellent opportunity for women who desire to train for immediate remunerative service. Already a large number have signified their intention of joining this class. New students should report tonight at 7:15, in room 12.

FOUR PARTIES' LEADERS MEET IN CONVENTION

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 17.—"The fight against the state administration platform plan endorsing the proposed national bona fide amendment will start in the Republican state convention here today with opposition to the candidacy of M. B. Harris of Fresno for chairman, said Charles Kase of Mendocino, here candidate for the assembly from the Sixth district, today.

Robert Madison, assembly candidate from Santa Rosa, and J. A. Stevens of Healdsburg, candidate in the Twelfth assembly district, confirmed Kase's statement.

Leo R. Friedman of the Thirty-third assembly district, San Francisco, will probably be the opposition candidate for chairman of the convention today, said Madison.

Republican proponents for the national dry amendment said today the plank would be carried by a safe majority. No attempt would be made to take the amendment proposition to be voted on at the November election, they said. This would eliminate the state prohibition amendment from the platform, social insurance state constitutional amendment.

Three women assembly candidates were delegates to the Republican convention. Mrs. Anna Saylor of Berkeley, Mrs. Grace S. Dorris of Bakersfield and Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes of Oroville, Republican assembly candidates from Los Angeles, was said to be the first colored delegate to a state party convention in California.

DEMOCRATS.

Francis J. Heney arrived here shortly before the hour set for the opening of the Democratic State Convention, and declared that he would go into the convention as a delegate and as the nominee of the party for governor.

Heney announced he would make a demand on the Democratic central committee, secretary of state, for a certificate of nomination as soon as the official canvases of the returns were completed today. If this is refused, he will instruct his attorney, John O'Garra, in San Francisco, to file a petition in the State Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel the Democratic central committee to issue the writ, Heney said.

At the same time Garrett McNerny, San Francisco attorney, was to file a brief in the Supreme Court on behalf of the Democratic party declaring Heney the nominee.

A fight to control the next Democratic state central committee and an effort to endorse Francis Heney as the candidate of the convention for governor loomed as the principal possibilities of the Democratic state convention, which opened today at the Hotel Oakland.

State Senator Claude F. Purkitt of Willows, Cal., who it was expected would be named chairman of the convention, said he believed a resolution would be introduced asking the convention to take action similar to that taken last week in San Francisco by the Democratic state central committee when it adopted a resolution certifying Heney as the candidate of the committee for governor.

Francis Heney, who was defeated by Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco for the gubernatorial nomination, but under the law Rolph prevented Heney from becoming the nominee because he failed to win the nomination of the party of his registration.

Purkitt expressed the belief that the Heney forces would endeavor to obtain control of the state central committee which the convention will name. Sidney M. Van Wyke, r. of San Francisco, who has been appointed a delegate to the convention to fill a vacancy in the San Francisco delegation, predicted the fight for control of the convention would also be made by forces looking forward to the national campaign of 1920 as well as by Heney forces.

At least one woman delegate will be seated in the Democratic convention. She is Mabel L. Uthman of San Jose, who was appointed by the Santa Clara county committee to represent the Twenty-seventh senatorial district.

Interest in a prohibition plank, which probably will be inserted in the Democratic platform, appeared to be divided between proposals to endorse the national dry amendment or to endorse the national war time prohibition measure.

PROGRESSIVES.

Progressives were here today to hold a state convention for a party without a candidate. Frank E. Woodworth of San Francisco, the only candidate at the primary election, August 27, who was registered as Progressive, was defeated for the nomination for assemblyman from the Twenty-first district by Frederick C. Hawes of San Francisco. Hawes, who registered as a Republican, but sought and won both the Republican and Progressive nominations. The only delegates eligible to participate in the Progressive convention were those appointed by the various county committees of the party. A few had arrived early today. The announced the convention would be held.

SOCIALISTS.

The attitude of the Socialist party in California on America's participation in the war was undefined in the tentative platform prepared for submission to the state convention this afternoon. John C. Taylor of Oakland, candidate for state controller, was to call the convention to order.

"No trade war after the war" is a principle which should be added to President Wilson's declaration of "no indemnities, no annexations," according to the early draft of the platform.

Elimination of the gold standard was also urged.

Final Papers in Deal With Maud Fulton Signed

The final papers were signed this morning in the office of Attorney C. McKee, representing the Miller Estate, by the terms of which the coming to Oakland of Miss Maud Fulton as a theatrical manager is an assured fact.

Miss Fulton is the author of "The Brat." She has acquired, with George Ebbey, a lease of the Bishop playhouse, at Franklin and Eleventh streets, and a long term has been arranged for, and the permanency of the transfer is apparently assured.

The city is to have in Miss Fulton an actress whose success in the field of stage productions should add to the brilliancy of the Oakland theatrical field. She is to direct the stage productions. Ebbey will direct the business affairs of the institution, and McKee will produce the Alcazar Producing Co. of San Francisco.

NAME TO BE CHANGED.

The name of the Bishop playhouse is to be changed. Theater-goers of Oakland, who Miss Fulton believes are genuinely interested with her in the new venture, will be asked to suggest a suitable name with reasonable haste, for the new Maud Fulton playhouse.

The possession of the former Bishop playhouse is to be taken at once by Miss Fulton. She will signalize her entrance into the Oakland theatrical field as a theater proprietor and directress, by staging one of her own plays next week, and the permanency of the transfer is apparently assured.

Miss Fulton plans to make her new playhouse on Franklin street the center of her own productions before they are the Oakland theatrical field. She is now at work on three new plays, and the premier of each will occur on the stage of the Maud Fulton playhouse.

MAY REVIVE "BRAT."

Miss Fulton was for many years a valuable star of the Broadway stage, and in this field she accumulated a fortune. Her first play, "The Brat," was written for the Broadway stage, and she made another fortune for the remarkably gifted actress. She starred in this play for two straight years, with extraordinary success. She recently appeared in "The Brat" for two weeks, at the Alcazar, with much success, and will probably revive it in the near future for another production in the Maud Fulton playhouse.

Miss Fulton has connections with some of the biggest firms of New York producers, who has her intimate friends and associates, which will insure for her a successful career. She is now at work on three new plays, and the premier of each will occur on the stage of the Maud Fulton playhouse.

Richard Ryan, who has been assistant manager for Ebbey, the Oakland Orpheum and at the San Francisco Alcazar for many years, will be the business manager of the new Maud Fulton theater.

It is to be under the direction of Hugh Knox and the theater treasurer will be Howard Lugg.

Dehydrated Dinner to Be Given Here

Oakland is to see a "dehydrated dinner" when, September 21, J. T. Edwards, Atascadero scientist, is to host to a number of prominent Oakland people at a dinner at the Hotel Oakland. The menu will consist of "dehydrated" fruits and vegetables.

These are foodstuffs from which all water has been removed by a scientific process, the result being powder-like food that can be shipped in little space. Water added, it regains its original state. Chefs at the Oakland will prepare the food under the direction of Edwards.

Why Society Women Wash Their Own Hair

They do, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift, but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made Canthrox mixture. You can use this at a cost of about 3 cents a shampoo by getting some Canthrox from your druggist and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of water. It is so handy that enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you.—Advertisement.

Bellboy Arrested Following Theft

With the arrest in San Francisco last night of J. W. Burns, a former bellboy at the Hotel Oakland, the police believe that they have solved the mystery of the theft of a $100 diamond and sapphire ring which was stolen from a room occupied by Miss Margaret Oleson a short time ago. Burns is said to have worked in the hotel for several days.

A PACIFIC PORT, Sept. 17.—Seventeen Chinese sailors on the steamer Transvaal mutinied today when they learned that the vessel was about to start for the Atlantic coast. Fearing German submarines, the Chinese flatly refused to work. Immigration officials placed an armed guard on the ship. The Chinese created no trouble, but persisted in their refusal to obey orders. They declared they had not been told they were to go to an Atlantic port and asserted that all Chinese sailors have refused to make the trip.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. Rolph Carried County by 2076 Hayes Had Third Highest Vote Judge Ogden Majority Candidate

Although the Alameda county primary election ballot was the longest in the state, the 241 pages of official returns were in Sacramento ahead of most of the counties. The total vote of the county was 24,149. The total vote of the county was 24,149. The total vote of the county was 24,149.

Rolph's plurality in Alameda county was increased over the original figures and the now has a lead of 2076 over Governor Stephens. The total vote of Rolph was 24,888, and that of Governor Stephens 22,792. Other Republican gubernatorial candidates made a poor showing. Hayes had the third highest vote, but his total was only 2713. Fickert's was less than a thousand and the other candidates trailed behind with only a few hundred votes recorded in their favor.

The vote exceeded expectations by nearly eight thousand, the total being 77,744. Although the canvass added seven thousand votes to the unofficial total, the majorities and pluralities of the candidates were changed only in one or two instances. A. A. Wenderling of Berkeley leads in the race for the assembly in the fourth district. Supervisor W. J. Hamilton gained 800 votes in the third district, giving him approximately double the vote of his nearest opponent.

JUDGES QUALIFIED. In the county judge election, Judge Ogden received 39,456 votes, qualifying as a majority candidate by a small margin. This eliminates Mayor Greene Majors of Alameda, whose total vote was 14,341. Mayor Rolph received a splendid vote in Alameda city, where he is well and favorably known. Judges Kinsell and Koford, Lin S. Church and Judge A. F. St. Sure received a remarkably close vote. Judge Murphy of Berkeley has qualified. It was thought at first that Judge Quinn would receive a majority vote, in which case Murphy would have been eliminated. But the official returns make Judge Ogden the only majority candidate. With the elimination of Mayor Greene Majors of Alameda, Judge Ogden remains the only candidate from that city who is in the present time has no representation on the superior bench.

Of the county candidates, Grant D. Miller for county clerk received the highest vote, a total of 46,163. County Clerk George Gross came second with 45,704 votes, and Sheriff Frank Barnett third, with 43,284. A contest is threatened in the second supervisorial district by W. E. Gibson, who is considering a demand for a recount, claiming that the vote was not out of sufficient votes to give him the lead. Over W. E. Bridge as the opponent of Supervisor Heyer in the finals. The official totals are as follows:

CAMPAIGN FOR GIRLS PLANNED

Preliminary plans for an intensive campaign for moral education among the young girls of Oakland were started this morning at the meeting of the Women's Committee of the Council of Defense.

Dr. J. H. Kenyon, national director of War Camp Activities for girls, explained the plan of the government in regard to the teaching of the big things of life to all girls, (the girls in industry, the school girls and to the mothers themselves).

From the main office, 650 Flood building, San Francisco, an efficient group of women physicians will be sent to all communities that send in a request for them. These speakers will talk to large groups of girls, in the schools and in the industrial plants, attempting to awaken a definite feeling of patriotism, which they hope will result not only in their signing up for special war work which they may be called upon to perform by the local war agencies, but in the girls becoming an inspiration to the soldier.

The campaign in Oakland will begin shortly with a mass meeting at the Deacons' Club, where all the girls who have taken part in the social affairs of the club will be asked to listen to one of the speakers.

The Board of Education, represented at the meeting by Dr. J. H. Kenyon, will arrange a special time for all school girls to get the benefit of the campaign.

A branch office of the Bureau of War Camp Activities for Girls will be opened at 420 Central Bank building with Mrs. H. De Mary in charge, and any one desiring a speaker will apply at that office.

The campaign is sponsored by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

GOVERNMENT O. K. PUT ON BIG POTASH PLAN

Development of potash beds in Searles Lake by Oakland capital has been assured, through the endorsement by the state of the plan of the West End Mining Company, controlled by Oakland men, and which has voted a 10 per cent dividend. E. M. Smith is president of the company, which has voted $180,000 to the stockholders from earnings on gold and silver properties near Tonopah.

Machinery and equipment are to be installed at Searles Lake at once to develop the potash holdings of the company, and contracts for the output are now being made.

The directors of the company, besides Smith, include Rufus P. Jennings, J. F. Carlson, president of the Central Bank, C. P. Murdock, L. W. Bennett, George Ellis and H. L. Oliver.

Newspaper Man to Aid Food Director

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—The appointment of Lynn C. Simpson of Sacramento to the office of director of education for the United States food administration of California, was announced today by Federal Food Commissioner Ralph P. Merritt.

Simpson, who was recently managing editor of the Sacramento Union, assumed his new duties today, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Frederick O'Brien, now connected with the United States food administration at Washington.

LABOR NOTES

A large number of Eastbay railroad employees of the lower paid classes, whose wages and working hours were not covered by the new schedule issued by the railway administration, are affected by the second schedule, announced a few days ago. The increase affects mainly clerks, station employees, stationary engineers, power transfer operators, laborers and other maintenance of way men.

In substance, the wage increases are $25 a month for men on monthly time, and 12 cents per hour for those on an hourly basis, over the January 1 rate. An eight-hour day is established with a rate of overtime of one and one-half times the regular rate.

It is announced that labor headquarters that W. V. Angell, international organizer of the Boilermakers' union, has induced a large number of the railroad shopmen here to join the Sacramento valley, to join the Boilermakers' organization. Practically every man in the Southern Pacific boiler shops at Tracy and Stockton is now affiliated with the union.

Oakland Cooks, Waiters and Waitresses' Union has made a demand on the local Restaurant Keepers' Association for an eight-hour day for all club workers. If the request is refused the union will call the matter to the attention of the War Labor Board with a request for arbitration.

Barbers' Local No. 134, of Oakland, will hold its annual picnic next Sunday at Alora Park. Business Agent Frank B. Perry states that an interesting program has been arranged. The proceeds will go to the local benefit fund. During the past year the local paid out nearly $1000 in sick benefits.

Word has been received at the headquarters of the local Building Trades' Council that General Secretary-Treasurer O. A. Tietmeyer of the State Building Trades Council, who for several weeks past has been seriously ill, is much improved in health. Tietmeyer was at the local hospital several weeks ago at Santa Cruz.

T. C. Lynch, secretary of Painters' District Council No. 8, is to be elected on this week for lead poisoning and other ailments. During his absence the duties of secretary of the District Council will be cared for by William Reed, former secretary.

Winter Fashions to Be Shown All Week

Owing to the phenomenal success of the winter fashion show at the Oakland T. & D. Theatre the display of gowns, produced on a scale never before shown in this city, will be continued until Saturday. The fashion show will be seen every afternoon at 2 o'clock and at 8 o'clock at night.

The winter fashion show is the last word in women's attire, shown by dancing and singing models. Its display of gowns is the most gorgeous the union has ever seen in Oakland. "Made in America" dress vies for ascendancy against European designers and proves the versatility of Americans when urged by war exigencies to model their own styles.

Boy Drops From Sight On Birthday

The police have been asked to search for Joseph Kelemen, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Kelemen of 1228 Twenty-third avenue, who disappeared on his sixteenth birthday, last Saturday. The boy's mother is prostrated over his unexplained absence as he was exemplary in his habits, according to the family, and never left home before. The missing boy is described as blond, with blue eyes and small for his age.

Tribune Carriers to Enjoy T. & D. Show

Thursday night will be a gala night for TRIBUNE carriers at the Oakland T. & D. theatre. As tentatively arranged, the program already has been arranged for the TRIBUNE boys on a former occasion. TRIBUNE carriers' districts No. 2 and No. 3 won the recent contest and this party is one of the many features the winners are entitled to.

Alon Lane, one of the country's greatest organists, will provide another attractive program in addition to other numbers. Lane's contribution to the last TRIBUNE carriers' affair proved one of its most notable features.

The regular T. & D. program for that night will embrace Alice Brady in "The Death Dance," Gladys Leslie in "A Symphony of the Woods," the Winter Fashions with its display of gowns, singing and dancing models, and Ford Rush, the eminent baritone singer.

WOMAN TUMBLES FROM WINDOW TO DODGE THIEVES

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Suffering from a broken leg and other injuries sustained in a leap from a window of her home, following a visit of burglars who bound and gagged her, Mrs. Walter Grover, 1029 Buchanan street, is at the Central Emergency hospital under treatment. Physicians say she will recover.

Mrs. Grover says that while she was alone in her home last night two men rang the door bell, and when she admitted them, bound and gagged her and ransacked the house. She struggled across the room and succeeded in throwing herself from the window. The police are investigating.

TO BUILD FIREHOUSE

MEXICO PARK, Sept. 17.—Subscriptions from local residents of $10,000 resulted in the adoption of a resolution by the board of supervisors of Redwood City today recommending the building of a firehouse here.

Hill of the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School and Dr. M. S. Thomas, Baptist state director of religious education. Professor Linsley has been at the head of the Y. M. C. ## AMERICA'S PROMPT ANSWER.

The Austro-Hungarian peace proposal has been received with suspicion by the allied nations. The prompt response of President Wilson voices the overwhelming sentiment of the American people. It is short, dignified and to the point.

"The government of the United States," declares the chief executive, "feels that there is only one reply which it can make to the suggestion of the imperial Austro-Hungarian government. It has repeatedly and with entire candor stated the terms upon which the United States would consider peace, and can and will entertain no proposal for a conference upon a matter concerning which it has made its position and purpose so plain."

President Wilson in his Mount Vernon Fourth of July speech clearly set forth America's peace terms to which he refers. Briefly, they call for the destruction of every arbitrary power that can separately, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; the settlement of every question upon the basis of the free acceptance of that settlement by the people immediately concerned; the consent of all nations to be governed in their conduct toward each other by the same principles of honor and of respect for the common law of civilized society that govern the individual citizens of all modern states in their relations with one another; to the end that all promises and covenants may be sacredly observed, no private plots or conspiracy hatched, no selfish injuries wrought with impunity and a mutual trust established upon the handsome foundation of a mutual respect for right.

When the Central Powers are willing to settle upon these terms then America will take its seat at the peace conference. Until that time arrives peace proposals will be received with mistrust and spurned as they have been in the present instance. Official German honor is regarded lightly by the world. When dealing with outlaw nations peace proposals must be specific. America can afford, and other allied nations can afford, to continue the struggle until terms as outlined by President Wilson are acceptable. The greater the advance on the Western Front the more specific will the peace offers of the Central Powers become.

War effects are manifest in many unexpected directions. Coffins, for instance. The National Selected Morticians recently met at Chicago, and one of their actions was to adopt plans for the conservation of metal and cloth in coffins. Which is all right if the resulting economies are to be shared with the bereaved. There has long been felt a necessity for such action. When death is in the house it is unseemly to bargain. Hence, what under other circumstances would come under the head of extortion is sometimes practiced. And ostentatious trappings have been encouraged to afford an excuse for such practice. The National Selected Morticians seem to have started a laudable reform.

One of the latest proposals to belittle the Hun and cause him irritation is to spell Germany with a lower-case g—"germany." It is suggested by an ultra patriotic Illinois woman editor. It would certainly indicate a national feeling, though it would be, perhaps, too comprehensive. There are those who would come under that slight who may not deserve to be stigmatized. When we apply the designation "Huns" to Germans we have in mind those who are guilty of Hunnish acts, those who are ravaging France and Belgium and other invaded countries, and not all who were born in Germany or are of German extraction.

Eugene Debs, when the time came for him to say his say after he had been convicted of violating the Espionage Act, made remarks about his "ideals" which furnished an opening for Judge Westenhaver to say this: "I do not regard the idealism of the defendant as expressed by himself as any higher, purer, nobler than the idealism of thousands of young men I have seen marching down the streets of Cleveland to defend our country." That expresses the patriotic sentiment of the country so completely that there is no possible come-back.

TOMORROW'S VISITING HOST.

The presence of three hundred of San Francisco's leading business men tomorrow, and their entertainment by the business men of Oakland, is a great opportunity to get together in the best friendly sense. The two communities may not be as far apart as they once had the credit of being, but the relations of communities whose interests are so interwoven cannot be too close.

Gradually as Oakland has merged industrially and commercially it has shed its bucolics, and coincidentally, as a realization of the industrial development of the continental side of the bay has been borne upon the larger and older city, it has put aside its patronizing air, until there is a good working amicability, which such commingling as that planned for tomorrow will confirm and increase.

This mutual attitude is not only good sense in the abstract, but wise in this particular relation. There are no natural antagonisms, no rivalries, no situations that justify an assumption that curtailment of the opportunities of one will redound to the advantage of the other. There is room for both. There is opportunity for all possible development, without one line of effort trenching on the other.

This fact is becoming better understood as the manifest destiny of San Francisco bay is made more apparent. There is room enough for all. It is probable that the combined efforts of the two cities will not keep pace with the opportunities.

The plan outlined by the managing director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce is a good one—a resident who is familiar with what is being done on this side of the bay to take in hand a visitor. The good sense that abides so palpably here will lead to his performing as a gracious host, pointing out and elucidating those things that the visitor may take pleasure in knowing.

So much will depend on the way we dispense transbay hospitality that every host should be on his mettle—and no doubt he will be.

A newspaper, in reprinting one of those ancient apocryphal stories wherein it was prophesied that the head of the Lutheran church would "scourge the world with war," has stirred a pastor of that faith to deny that the kaiser is the head of that church. Which in a way puts the kaiser in a category with Henry VIII. It is a fact that both ought to be absolved on general principles from being either the founders or defenders of great religions.

The accounts of the serious illness of the kaiserin is regarded as propaganda. She may be ill, but it is apparently believed by the kaiser that a point can be made, especially with the home folks, by having it appear that her illness has been caused by the menace of the heartless allies and the fear of their ravaging the German nation. It is an instance of royalty screening itself behind a petticoat.

All of us can remember when the Hawaiian canned pineapple was a new delicacy. We had not been greatly impressed before with this fruit put up in tin, but the Hawaiian way made a hit with us. At the outset the industry amounted to $6000 a year. This season it will amount to more than $8,000,000, and in weight to 48,000,000 pounds, and the government takes half for the boys over there. An initial advertising campaign involving an outlay of $50,000 is responsible for this result.

ESSENTIAL WAR INDUSTRIES.

In the table of classes at the front of the questionnaire, which will determine the status of men between 18 and 45 who will register on September 12, the deferred classifications contain such descriptions as: "Necessary skilled industrial laborer in necessary industrial enterprise," "necessary assistant or associate manager of necessary industrial enterprise." And even in Class I, from which most men are drafted for war service are drawn, Division P reads: "Unskilled or not a necessary industrial laborer." What is a necessary industrial enterprise, and what is the definition of "not a necessary industrial laborer"? Hitherto industries have not known where to place themselves, and workmen have been uncertain about their relation to the industries, as exempts or not. Except in the obvious essential industries, there has been a lack of regulation and, therefore, much confusion. The War Industries Board has now come to the relief of employer and workman with a list of preferred industries.

There are four classes in the order of their importance. A great deal of study has been given to completing the respective lists. At first sight it will not appear that all the industries named are essential, but in one way or another they are contributing to the prosecution of the war. Like Class I in the man-power draft, Class I of the preferred industries is logically at the head of the list. The war could not be carried on for a day without the products of the industries designated; at the same time, if importance seems to shade off as the series lengthens, it cannot be argued that any of the industries should have been omitted; they are all playing a part in the war; some perhaps a minor, but nevertheless an indispensable, part. If the question of more combatants is raised by General Crowder, be done if the war is to be revised. That must certainly be the case, for the war is being fought on a scale of force, other than those planned, and reinforcements, other than those planned, are called for. The maximum service age can hardly be advanced.

The purpose of the draft was to divide and assign the man power of the country according to military and industrial needs. It was not difficult to call men to the colors, put them in uniform, and train them. As a problem, that was simple enough. But to decide who should do the essential work at the rear and be exempt from military service was not so simple. To solve the problem, we have been muddling along. What the War Industries Board will effect by its list of essential industries is well put by Priorities Commissioner Edwin R. Parker:

"The administration of priorities is calculated to bring order out of chaos and to develop an evenly balanced industrial program to meet the requirements of the military program, and at the same time supply the essential requirements of the civilian population." "The administration of the plan will have its difficulties, but they will gradually disappear if employers and their workmen co-operate loyally and intelligently with the War Industries Board. They have now got their bearings."—New York Times.

NOTES and COMMENT

We don't quite get that idea of the government buying 246 quarts of whisky that had been seized in Texas. And if we could get it we would still be at sea over Uncle Sam paying $9 for the first quart.

"Vice-chancellor admits that the American army means menace." Means menace! Substitute "is" for "means." It means a good deal more than mere menace, when it comes to that.

The Sacramento Union comes at us with an unusual word. "The ineluctable difficulty in classifying industries as essential or unessential is that every industry is essential to somebody that has a right to live and wishes to exercise it."

The Chico Enterprise comes on with a variant of the prune joke: "Don't pickles ever and prune pickles has begun. Fortunately for the latter product, no one has yet started a movement to close the American boarding-house."

News from the rice fields via the Chico Enterprise: "The ducks are either too wise or too silly to pay any attention to Frank Newbert's bombs."

It is hard work to think of anything more unedifying than the purloining of clothing that had been gathered for the destitute in the ravaged war countries. That story about taking coppers from the eyes of a decedent does not class with it.

Paralleling the news that the Hun counts seek peace is an account of a ship bearing women and children being sunk by Hun submarines. If any peace had been possible on their initiative, that would make it impossible. No terms can be granted a people responsible for such savagery.

The announcement that the butchers' strike is deferred undoubtedly states the case as all strikes till the war is over. The President's position represents the civic attitude exactly. After the war a better method of settling labor disputes, it is hoped, will be adopted.

Government is watching the marriage-permit jump. It is a good place to look for slackers. It is a reasonable conclusion that any movement of this kind above the normal is inspired by other considerations than matrimony in its more legitimate aspect.

Barley growers are also perturbed by that edict that stops brewing on the first of December. There are so many openings for barley that its inhibition as to beer would not seem to materially affect its usefulness. But growers are to petition the government for relief.

The coming of three hundred live wires from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, to join in a "hands-around-the-bay" effort, is just the thing to lubricate the situation. There is a little too much aloofness between the two sides of the bay.

The "coddling" that had become such a feature of competitive business is being visibly abated. We have seen many instances of this in rail road travel. Now the telegraph companies no longer come and fairly take your message out of your hand. You have to send it to the central station. There may be a difference of opinion as to whether this is good or bad.

One news item is to the effect that hop growers of Mendocino are abandoning their fields, and another is to the effect that the hop harvest of Yolo is proceeding as though nothing is to happen December 1. The guess is that no considerable part of the matured crop will be left un-gathered.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Mortimer Brothers of Dos Palos have spent nearly $1000 for fireworks, torpedoes and bombs with which to frighten wild duck away from their 1000 acres of rice. They also employ many men and boys each day to keep up a continuous fusillade with small rifles, trying to protect their crop.—Los Banos Enterprise.

It is not clear whether the phrase "better babies" implies that babies are bad and need to be made better, or that they are good and should be improved. Nor is it yet made certain by consensus of authorities whether the betterment is to be treated as a family expense to be added to the household cost of living, or as a municipal improvement to be supervised by the city commission and supported by taxation.—Sacramento Union.

Nowadays in San Diego when a candidate for office begins paying any marked attention to a woman, she is firmly convinced that said candidate is only after her vote.—San Diego Union.

E. Serbaroll, who has painted so many Marin county scenes for ex-Congressman William Kent, and painted the landscape for the Marin county booth at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, has just finished an oil painting of Old Tamalpais and presented it to the San Rafael Branch of the American Red Cross to be disposed of.—San Rafael Independent.

STATISTICS AS TO SLACKERS.

The figures of Gen. Crowder for the arrest of "slackers" are themselves a tribute to the national spirit. More than 10,000,000 men enrolled in the first two registrations under the conscription act, and in a year a quarter only a little over 20,000 men have been arrested for some infraction of that law. In large cities and remote mountain districts ignorance has accounted for many of these arrests. Valid cases of conscientious objection have accounted for a few. Allowance must always be made for the delinquency of the small criminal class found in every country. Above all, it is to be gathered from Gen. Crowder's statement that his figures cover men who registered, but who through ignorance, inattention, or worse, failed to see that their classification was completed last year. In a majority of army camps we believe there could be found men who had for some reason fallen into the category of "slackers," but who are now in the process of being made willing and valuable soldiers. And the issues and meaning of the war have been clarified to many since June, 1917.—New York Evening Post.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

Walter E. Scott, a member of the Gates-Lewellen Light Battery, wrote from Fort Wingate, New Mexico, describing how Captain Francis J. Gates of this city, the battery's commander, and Corporal Harry Luhrs and Private Conrad Fitzgerald, also of Oakland, had been wounded in a charge on the Spaniards at La Remisa, Porto Rico.

The Highland Park Improvement Club held a meeting at the home of L. J. Hardy Jr., 616 East Twenty-fourth street, to discuss the service given by the various car lines.

J. G. Maguire, a candidate for governor of this state, and other Democratic candidates for state offices, addressed a meeting in the Oakland exposition building.

Work on the new Harrison-street bridge was completed.

WORLD'S FASTEST HORSE.

The horse and horsemen will not be denied, despite the rapid motorization of all modes of human locomotion. The thoroughbred racer Roamer recently run a mile on the "artificial" N. Y. track in one minute, thirty-four and four-tenths seconds, the fastest recorded mile ever run by a horse. It surpasses the feat of the great Salvo, made at Monmouth park, twenty-eight years ago, of a mile in 1:35 1/2.

SAVE GOLD FOR COIN.

Unprecedented demand for gold bars and a suspicion that the metal for export caused the United States assay office in New York today, on orders from Washington, to stop the sale of bullion to jewelers and others until further orders. Sales of gold bars to the trade here the last year aggregated $55,000,000 in value, an increase of $12,000,000 over the previous twelve months.

REVOLTS ARE SPREADING IN GERMANY

PARIS, Sept. 17.—That a spirit of revolt is growing up in the German army is shown by the secret order issued by General Ludendorff, which has just been captured by the allies. The order commanded the most rigorous repression of revolutionary utterances. It was brought about by references to outbreaks in the army, overheard on trains carrying German soldiers on furlough.

When absent on leave German soldiers are not allowed to carry small arms any more.

Would Make Vimy a World Park Ridge Stands Allied Monument

By BERT FORD,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 14 (By mail).—Vimy Ridge, I had often read about it. I had located it with pins on war maps. I had written about it, too, while on the rewrite shift back home. I did not dream, seven months ago, that I would see it with its battle scars and tread its historic soil with the armies still fighting in the immediate vicinity.

But I had that thrill the other day. I shall remember longest, and most vividly, the white patches all over it made by the rows of little painted crosses, hundreds of them, marking the graves of patriots who died in the flush and vigor of youth in order that democracy and civilization might be secure.

Next to the crosses I shall remember how the ridge has been torn by shells. There is scarcely a yard of flat surface, save the plank roadway across its summit and the corner that Tommy Atkins has developed into a truck garden which gives the soldiers fresh vegetables for mess.

Canadian soldiers say they would like to see a public fund raised so that Vimy Ridge might be converted into a war park and preserved in its present state. I could not help thinking and wishing that the parents and relatives of the young heroes who died on its slopes might be privileged to visit as we were, so that they might, with their own hands, shape the mounds and remove the weeds that grow in a tangled riot over the graves. However, considering that they are still in the battle zone, the cemeteries scattered along Vimy are wonderfully well kept.

OAKLAND-S. F. AMITY TO BE MADE CLOSER

Plans are complete for the program tomorrow when San Francisco's business men, 20 strong, are to be the guests of Oakland. The affair will be one of the most important get-together affairs in Oakland in years, being designed to cement a new friendship and a new cooperation between the business men of the two cities with the common object of helping Uncle Sam to win the war.

The visitors will arrive in Oakland tomorrow at 2 o'clock to be met at the Hotel Oakland by the Oakland men with automobiles. A general call has been issued by the Chamber of Commerce to the citizens of Oakland to help entertain the visitors by lending their machines and giving their services as drivers for the afternoon.

The visitors will be taken on a ride about Oakland, Berkeley and Emeryville, during which they will inspect factories and shipyards. They will return to the Hotel Oakland in the evening for a dinner at which President H. C. Capwell of the Chamber of Commerce will preside and at which Secretary Joseph E. Cairns of the Oakland Chamber and General Manager George H. Boardman of the San Francisco Chamber will make brief addresses.

Tomorrow at noon the Manufacturers' Association of the Chamber will hold its luncheon in the Commercial Club Grill, an address by former Senator George Cartwright of Fresno, author of the Cartwright Law. He will speak on labor conditions. John A. McGregor of the Bethlehem Shipyards, will also speak, telling of the government work being done in the two Bethlehem plants.

"Fire Lassies" Urged by Chiefs Convention Opened in Oakland

Training women to "run with the men" will be an interesting subject of discussion at the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs' Association, which opened a four-day session in the Hotel Oakland this morning. The probability and desirability of employing women as "fire lassies" will be brought before the convention by Chief William H. Byington of Salt Lake City, who will advance an argument in favor of the plan the exigencies of war.

Byington will urge the various municipalities to consider seriously the advisability of calling upon women and is thoroughly convinced they will prove to be efficient and brave fire-fighters. He will read a paper on the subject at tomorrow's session, which in the main will be given over to round-table discussions of various subjects. He is of the opinion that women should be encouraged, more particularly in the smaller communities, to organize volunteer fire departments. He will call attention to the fact that in some of the smaller towns in the Intermountain region volunteer units of women fire-fighters have already been organized. These women, he said, have been compelled to continue wearing dresses while on duty at fires, but have found that costumes such as are worn by members of their sex in railway yards were well adapted to fire-fighting demands.

MAYOR DAVIE SPEAKS.

The session this morning opened with addresses by Mayor John L. Davies and Dr. F. E. Jackson, commissioner of public health and safety. Chief George E. Wallace of Modesto, president of the organization, presided.

In his address of welcome Mayor John L. Davies said:

"Oakland is all dressed up in her war paint. Every smoke stack belches the fact that she has her coat of straining every nerve to do her full share in this national crisis. There is not a citizen in the community who is not bending his every energy to keep the home fires burning. The world is on fire and it is up to the good firemen at home (and we are all firemen) in this time of crisis to keep the fires from full blast to help put it out. The soldiers in France hold the noxious which will quench the blaze and we at home are supplying the power that pumps the water."

"You who have the responsibility of protecting the lives and property of the communities against conflagration are performing no mean part in this work at home. Never in the history of the world has there been such a need for fire-fighters."

At 5:45 o'clock an illustrated lecture on fire prevention will be delivered by Jay Stevens. Ladies are invited to attend.

JAPANESE IN STATE GIVEN LAND TITLES

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 17.—Judge Craig of the Riverside County Superior Court has handed down an opinion of International Importance in the case of the People vs. Harada. This case has attracted attention throughout the United States as the first arising from an alleged violation of the California alien land law.

In the opinion filed today Judge Craig holds that the law is not broad enough to deny the right to own land to American-born children of aliens ineligible to citizenship and that they are entitled to hold real estate in California.

After the enactment of the law, Jukichi Harada, a local Japanese, bought a residence in this city and had the deed issued to his three minor children, who were born in the United States.

People living in the neighborhood objected to the Japanese occupying the property and a committee waited upon Harada with an offer to buy the property from him at a price above the value which he paid. He declined to sell.

The state, later, through the attorney general's office, brought suit to have the property declared escheated to the state. It was the contention that Harada had the deed issued to his children merely as a subterfuge to evade the law.

According to today's decision Japanese born in California may acquire and retain title to real estate and no violation of the alien land law results. The state, it was said, would probably move against the decision.

HOARD IS GONE.

When Peter Demaria, of 361 Forty-ninth street, went into his basement where he had buried $35,000, he discovered that someone else was acquainted with his bank, according to his reports to the police today. Demaria found that his hoard was gone.

SAILOR FINED $50.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Louis Munson, member of the crew of the steamer Peri, arrested August 27, 1917, charged with attempting to smuggle a rifle and 2000 rounds of ammunition into Mexico, was fined $50 by Federal Judge Maurice T. Doelling.

S. PROPERTY OF GERMAN SOLD BY U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—The assets of the Orenstein-Arthur Koppel Company, manufacturers of mining machinery, of 14,000, which were sold last Friday to Pittsburgh interests following the seizure of the company's American assets by Mitchell, the German consul, are being sold by the Pacific Coast office and warehouses at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle and Salt Lake, according to a statement issued by Pacific Coast Manager E. Plataw, with offices in the Rialto building here.

This is the first sale of local property seized by the alien enemy custodian, according to J. C. Hughes of the Savings Union and Trust Company, the local representatives.

Property taken includes the offices in the Rialto building, a large warehouse at Third and Mariposa streets, alongside the city plan of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, and other mining machinery valued at $30,000. Manager Plataw is conducting the business of the company, the trade name of which is the Pacific Coast Sales Company, pending further advice from the East. He has as yet had no instructions to transfer the property to new owners, all of whom are Americans.

According to advice received here the company's plant at Koppel, Pa., under the supervision of Joseph Guffy, director of the bureau of sales, only American citizens were permitted to bid for the purchase of the shares of the company. The proceeds, the exact amount of which were not given out, will be invested in Liberty bonds. The sale of the assets is being conducted by the company from 100 per cent German owned concern to a 100 per cent American business corporation.

The company installed light-railway equipment, practically all American munition plants, steel plants and kindred concerns and had contracts with the Westinghouse Company, the Dupont Powder Works and half of the big industrial plants operating in the country.

Urged Need of Playtime Hours Federation Opens Year's Work

TRIBUNE BUREAU 2011 SHATTUCK AVE. BERKELEY, Sept. 17.—Healthful recreation for girls and boys as a means of solving the time problem of the young was urged yesterday by the Berkeley Federation of Mothers in opening its year's work at the initial meeting of the federation held in the board of education rooms.

The mothers gave endorsement and wholehearted support to the national recreation week program planned for October 21-26 under the auspices of the National Council of Defense. Necessity for recreation of a wholesome nature was urged by Gustava A. Schneider, playground supervisor of Berkeley, who will have charge of the local campaign.

According to Schneider, juvenile delinquency has increased 35 per cent in New York since the beginning of the war, the largest number of the offenders being girls.

As a means of showing the work of playgrounds and the necessity for recreation more than ever in war-time, Schneider is arranging a program of activities for recreation week which will include demonstrations and play nights at the Edison, Garfield, Willard, Durban and high schools.

Superintendent of Schools H. B. Wilson made his initial appearance before the mothers' assembly at 7:30 p. m., giving a short talk of greeting. He declared that wherever mothers' clubs were found it was certain that the school had a strong right arm.

Tribute to the boys in France was paid by the mothers at the close of a half minute at the beginning of the program, a pledge of allegiance to the flag also being given. The mothers gave endorsement to the fund drive of the Boy Scouts.

EDUCATION PART OF NATION'S NEED OF BABES: WISDOM

"You are part of the most important generation since the time of the French revolution," said President Reinhardt of Mills College to the student body assembled at convocation this morning in Lister Hall for the first time this year.

"The government is so anxious for men to go to college that it is paying them to do so. The need for educated women is not yet so great, but all are living in an age that needs them and waste of time is the highest selfishness."

A series of four talks addressed to the freshmen will be given by President Reinhardt on "The Function of the College and University." These lectures will be given at the regular assembly hour, 11:40 o'clock Monday and Wednesday mornings and will be open to the public.

The first of the series, given yesterday, the subject being "History of the American College."

In view of these conditions the conclusion is reached by the office of the alien property custodian that the directors of this German-owned concern must have found it easy to supply information of military importance to the German government.

BUSY PROGRAM OF WOMEN OUTLINED

Speeding up stenography to 335 words a minute, making out women thin, and thin women fat, banishing headaches, influenza and the ills that make life a burden; bringing the art of the first aid down to earth, which is successfully bandaging a body from head to foot, mastering conversational French in a brief while, perfecting themselves in military drill make up the program which the American Women's Legion has adopted.

Four months is the maximum time in which to master the twenty-two signs of the abbreviated writing which the members will begin to study this evening in Room 230 Wheeler hall under the direction of Mrs. Mary K. Bell. The preparation being made that when maimed soldiers return there will be instructors ready to guide them in the rapid system. So simple is the new way that hands are not necessary, attaching a pencil to a bracelet will substitute for fingers.

Psycho-physical exercises under Miss Virginia Whitehead of Wednesday evenings in Hearst hall promise happiness to her who is too thin or her who is too plump. Also it gives health and beauty to the weary.

Monday and Friday evenings are reserved for French classes. Again Wednesday evening will be devoted to the art of bandaging in first aid classes.

The American Women's Legion will participate in the patriotic demonstration in the Gracie Blevins auditorium, September 25, inaugurating the Fourth Liberty loan campaign. They will be heard in the bond rally song which has been written by their commander-in-chief, Miss Myrd Mook.

PIEDMONT SCHOOL NAME'S CHANGED

Over the protest of Director Harry L. Boyle, the Board of Education last night passed a resolution to change the name of the school to the Piedmont school. The school was named the Woodrow Wilson school, but the board failed to accept the suggestion. Residents in the vicinity objected to the change from the "Piedmont" women's clubs. The board decided that the distinction given would be sufficient.

Under the new selective service law, men who do not receive their questionnaires for thirty days. This is the order received by the local draft boards today, the thirty days to be allowed under the new law to permit registrants to enlist, if desired, in the forces of their own country.

Y. M. C. A. recruits, expecting orders to leave for New York for overseas service, have in the past two days besieged their draft boards, seeking immediate classification before leaving.

Y. M. C. A. work can leave Oakland until after he has received and answered his questionnaire without running the risk of military delays and consequent legal complications.

Draft boards today were busy numbering registration cards. This work will be completed in several days, when questionnaires will be sent out.

Various War Fund Plans Are Disdained

Applications by various charities and organizations, seeking to collect money for war work, lectures and allied uses, have been turned down by the War Council of Defense, and several decisions are still pending, according to the announcement issued by the council. The council is taking no action on the application of William Sandoz Mission to collect funds.

Application of California Preparedness Chapter of the Naval Service, Inc., Mrs. McMillan, treasurer, to hold ball.

Application of Women's Loyal Legion, Mrs. Mook, commander, to collect funds.

Application of I. J. Boufford to hold an Army and Navy fashion show and dance.

Application of Commission for Aid, Civil and Military, France and Belgium, for leave to solicit voluntary contributions.

Application of Elizabeth W. Lark for leave to collect funds for clothing for dependents of enlisted men was made.

The Council of Defense declined to do so, because the fund is to be used for the above or any similar applications should not be held to cast any aspersions on the patriotic motives of the applicants.

In the view of the department, however, the proposals rejected were superfluous in view of other channels already open for raising funds for similar purposes.

SEATTLE PLAN TO BUILD HOUSING HERE

Co-operation from Seattle, where at the present time one of the largest industrial housing plans in the nation is actively under way, is to add Oakland in coping with the local housing situation.

Gordon C. Corbaley, secretary of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, who took an active part in the campaign in Seattle, which has included a two million dollar bond issue and a great comprehensive housing plan, is to confer this week with the Oakland authorities, explaining the details of the building plans. He will tell of the surveys of Seattle and how they were made, and of the views of the architects coping with the problem.

The conference is now being arranged by Captain Joseph E. Calne, secretary of the local chamber. Corbaley is now in the city studying local conditions and applying his Seattle experience to them.

In Seattle, he said, 3700 homes are being built by private capital, with a chamber of Commerce bureau assisting owners of vacant lots to construct.

He suggests a similar plan for Oakland, and will give details at the conference, the date of which probably will be decided tomorrow.

Dock and Deck

STEAMERS ARRIVING AT PACIFIC PORTS report that the steamer "Pat" from the Pacific for the past week. This steamer has finally found its way to the coast, making a long and arduous voyage. Many of the steamer's fishing fleet are overdue. They should have arrived at their home ports long ago. No anxiety, as the owners know they are safe somewhere near their port and will all arrive soon.

A three-masted schooner, which was purchased by the Alaska Fishing Company for $51,000, has been reported as having arrived at an offshore port looking for work. She was under charter when purchased and had to make this voyage before her new owners take her over for the fishing business next season. Reports will be made before the craft can proceed on its voyage.

CAPTAIN WHITE RETURNS HOME

Captain C. H. White, who commanded the steamer "Pat" from the Pacific for the past week, which was torpedoed August 13 off the New Jersey coast, has returned home safely. The schooner was built in 1904 and was destroyed on her maiden voyage. Captain White will be given another craft by the United States Shipping Board.

Lieutenants and Cook of Honolulu have sold the schooner "Pat" to the U. S. Navy. The craft was built at North Bend, Ore., 21 years ago, and was the last of a line of 12. She has a cargo of 500,000 feet of lumber. She is a 455-ton vessel. A few years ago she was purchased by Lieutenants and Cook who planned to sail to the island trade. After new owners will send her off shore.

The concrete large now under construction at Oakland is being looked over by the state harbor commissioners with a view of purchasing her for a lighter for transporting oil along the coast. The new craft is almost ready and is fitted with compartments. She is 500-ton register.

Change of masters registered at the U. S. Custom House: Captain D. Maxwell, steamer Mariner; Captain S. Anderson, steamer Arab.

GIRL WITNESS IS PLAYED BY JUDGE

Judge W. H. Waste assumed a King Solomon role today in granting a divorce to Mrs. W. H. Waste. The actress, Stephen W. Burke, formerly a Great Lakes mariner, but now employed in the Oakland shipyards. Deeming it better for both of them that they should be separated and far apart so that their opposite natures would not clash, he gave the wife the decree.

The daughter, Lucille, a normal school teacher, on the stand for her mother, came in for a scoring by the judge, who told her that she was "displaying the most unfortunate attitude toward her father that I have ever seen demonstrated on a witness stand."

"Your desire to be dramatic," the court said, "is making a very unfavorable impression."

The girl had been most bitter in denouncing her father, telling of his sarcasm and stingy provision.

The wedding told of the mother and daughter having brought home two soldiers whom they met on a ferryboat, of how Mrs. Burke went to the picture shows twice a day, and how when she came home and found a colored girl manhandling her nails he told his wife that if she would use plenty of water she would not get the dirt on her face. The girl, questioned by her father's attorney, admitted that the "stingy provision" she complained of had been sufficient to rear her to womanhood.

LOOK HERE, WHITE MAN, SEE WHAT AH GOT!"

PARIS, Sept. 17.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) During the recent American advance from Chateau-Thierry, a Red Cross captain met an American negro soldier marching toward Chateau-Thierry, following closely behind a German major. The negro had transferred his back from his own back to the back of the German officer and had also transferred the German major's monocle to his own eye. Thus equipped the black warrior was parading triumphantly down the road. As he passed the Red Cross captain he called out: "I say, look here what this nigger done got."

GARBAGE MEN MAY STOP COLLECTION

Unless better facilities are provided by the city for the handling of garbage on the western waterfront the garbage men will cease gathering refuse October 1, according to a report made to the city council today by Commissioner F. F. Morse. According to the commissioner, a committee from the scavenger's Association waited upon him and discussed the situation. The point at issue is the present enforced long haul to the waterfront via Seventh street, owing to the displacement of the city council building, which was dismantled during the course of construction work for the Union Industrial Works. The garbage men complain that it is impossible for them to handle the refuse over the long route satisfactorily and that it entails hardships upon them.

NATION TO OPEN LANDS FOR SOLDIERS

TRIBUNE BUREAU
201 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, Sept. 17.—That the government is making extensive plans to open agricultural lands to soldiers and sailors returning from the war and will provide for thousands of fighting men desirous of turning farmers was the declaration today of Dr. Elwood Mead, head of the State land settlement board and professor of rural institutions at the University of California, upon his return from Washington, D. C., where he was called by Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane.

Dr. Mead's work in the big reclamation project will be the arranging of the land for settlement and the preparation of a plan for financing the selling of land to the returning fighters.

Under that the government may know just how to proceed, a survey has been ordered of all available land in the United States which may be reclaimed and made tillable, said Dr. Mead.

"Among the land to be investigated will be some 200,000 or 300,000 acres in the Imperial Valley in this State."

Until that survey is completed any plans for financing the big project of working out a settlement scheme must be held in abeyance. Accordingly, I have returned to Berkeley to continue work here until the survey has been finished, when I will be summoned east again."

The work of conducting the survey will be in charge of A. L. Davis, chief of the United States reclamation service, assisted by a staff of experts.

That the government has a big and important task ahead of it is the declaration of Dr. Mead.

Dr. Mead recently directed the opening of several thousand acres of State land in Durham, Butte county, the first government land colony in the United States.

Prune Crop Damage Is Large Growers, However, Can See Hope

TRIBUNE BUREAU
84 EAST SANTA CLARA

SAN JOSE, Sept. 17.—Cold, foggy weather following the recent unprecedented rainstorm, have hastened fermentation in the wreckage of a $5,000,000 prune crop, mired under trees throughout the valley. Officials of the Prune and Apricot Growers Association now believe, after a careful survey of conditions, that the loss will be even heavier than first reports indicated. It is estimated that the total loss will be $5,000,000.

Nevertheless salvaging work is being conducted on a large scale with the help of soldiers from Camp Fremont, who are pouring into San Jose on furloughs granted by the War Department for the purpose of minimizing the losses facing the local growers, hundreds of whom are facing absolute ruin. The work problem is being handled by the War Work Council and Chamber of Commerce co-operating, and the San Jose Y. M. C. A. is helping to meet the housing problem presented.

SEE RESCUE.

A silver lining to the cloud is provided by the attitude of a corps of agricultural experts placed at the disposal of the community by the University of California. The unusual heavy September rain, they point out, although it may have caused immense losses this year, have in reality provided a wonderful opportunity for the employment of cover crops in the orchards as they have never been employed before, and the productivity of the soil may be increased to a vast extent by planting these crops immediately, to be ploughed under next spring. After a survey of the local situation the university men met prominent growers at a meeting last night at Mountain View and presented this phase of the situation to the assembly. Considerable enthusiasm was aroused.

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 17.—By redrying grapes and prunes which were already in racks when the heavy rainstorm hit this section last week, it is expected to save more than 50,000 acres of the fruit which would have been destroyed. Farm Adviser J. C. Stiles of Sutter county said two weeks' sunshine will save all on the vines.

Stiles said the rain would prove a benefit to many other farm products, which would offset the loss in grapes and prunes where redrying would not save the crops.

Stockmen, said Stiles, welcomed the rain because the grass was about dead on the ranges in this section, and starvation threatened the herds. Some stall feed was damaged, but the great increase in acreage this year is hoped to offset the loss.

VISALIA, Sept. 17.—Little damage was done to the prune crops in the Visalia district by the rains of last week. Reports to the Board of Trade are to the effect that because of the ample watering given the deciduous fruitmen, practically all of the drying crop was protected. The loss here is not expected to run more than 10 per cent and may be less than that, provided the remainder of the season is characterized by good drying weather.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 17.—Millions of eatable fish in the streams and lakes of Northern California, worth a million dollars, have been saved as a result of the early and unprecedented rainfall of this month, according to Chief Deputy George Neale of the State Fish and Game Commission. While the rain has not raised the water level in the streams and lakes to any appreciable extent, Neale says, the water has been freshened and the lives of the fish insured.

TELLS NEED FOR GUARDING GIRLS

Plans for better war service and for the better protection of young girls, were given impetus yesterday at the luncheon of the National League for Woman's Service at Hotel Oakland.

Mrs. Duffie, state president, believed that something must be done at once "to safeguard girls who were drifting the wrong way." As yet she had no definite plan to offer.

Americanization, as discussed by Miss Christina Krysto, herself a Russian immigrant, resolved itself into the simple duty of being kind and neighborly to the stranger who, giving up home and friends in his own land, seeks the ideals he expects to find in America.

At the speaker's table were Miss Christine Taft, Alameda county chairman of the League; Miss Ruth Valentine, county secretary; Miss Marion Leslie, state secretary; Mrs. Samuel Marks, vice-chairman for Berkeley; Mrs. William Hamilton, chairman San Francisco Defenders' Club; Mrs. Willie Volk, service chairman, San Francisco; Miss Ethel Moore, women's committee; Mrs. Fred Henshaw, Miss Anna Florence Brown, Mrs. F. C. Turner, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, Mrs. Ethel Kroil and Mrs. Carl Parker.

ATHLETE SHOT BY 3 BANDITS AFTER BATTLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Walter Pomeroy, Olympic Club athlete and champion swimmer, is recovering from bullet wounds, the result of a hand-to-hand encounter with a trio of automobile bandits who pursued the athlete and attempted to rob him on Fell street early this morning. He is the second man to be a victim of such a holdup in the city.

The police are hunting the bandits, whose bold pursuit of victims in an automobile last night astounded detectives. Pomeroy, the first man to give battle to the trio, is in the hospital. L. H. Bloom of 540 Cole street, held up by the same trio, did not resist. He was relieved of $3 and otherwise not molested.

SAME OLD GANG.

The bandits are believed to be the same who recently stopped a number of automobiles in Golden Gate park, operating in practically the same manner, according to the police. The holdups in the Tunnel Road, Oakland, were also of the same type.

The case is parallel with that of William West, an Olympic Club athlete who, held up by a trio of auto bandits in Golden Gate park two weeks ago, also gave battle, and was also shot. West is now recovering at his home in Berkeley.

The police say that without a doubt the bandits are the same men.

FIGHT HARD BATTLE

The attempt to hold up Pomeroy became a rough and tumble fight when the athlete, instead of throwing up his hands as commanded, closed with the three. One of the men, seeing that they were no match for the trained athlete, drew a revolver, shooting the clubman through the shoulder.

According to Pomeroy's story, the bandits drove their machine alongside him, closed in until he reached the curb, and then he fought back.

Pomeroy is the man who broke the Golden Gate swimming record in 1914. He lives at 308 Lake street. He was shot in the chest and arm. He was taken to the hospital by a private ambulance. He is now recovering at his home in Berkeley.

Christopher Maher Funeral Tomorrow

The funeral of Christopher Maher will be held tomorrow morning. He was one of Oakland's early settlers and died Sunday night at the home of a daughter at 574 Eighth street. He was 80 years old and began ranching in the early days of the settlement of the Claremont Country Club. He afterwards sold a portion of that land to Colonel John Hayes and the Livermore family. He lived extensively in real estate here, among his holdings being Hamilton hall, and retired fifteen years ago and devoted his time largely to charity. Surviving him are two sons and five daughters.

LIBERTY LOAN OFFICES TO BE IN CITY HALL

Liberty Loan Committee headquarters during the period of the coming campaign for the flotation of the fourth Liberty loan will be located in the rooms of the G. A. R. and the United States War Veterans in the Oakland City Hall, according to an announcement this morning by W. W. Garthwaite, general chairman of the Alameda County Liberty Loan Committee.

Garthwaite called particular attention to the patriotic spirit in which the war veterans and officials of the Associated Charities turned their headquarters over to the Liberty Loan committee and at the same time to render a big service in promoting the flotation of the coming fourth Liberty loan. Garthwaite cites the operation of the war veterans and the Associated Charities as striking examples of patriotism and loyalty which the committee hopes, he stated, will be viewed generally in the light of an object lesson.

The fact that the Liberty Loan Committee will be located in the city hall, it is said, gives the organization not only an exceedingly central location, but one which is known to everyone immediately and at the same time will prove of decided advantage during the various phases of the coming drive.

EQUIPMENT PLANNED.

Already the Liberty Loan committee, of which J. H. King is the executive chairman, has made elaborate preparations to move into its City Hall headquarters. The committee has arranged to work all day constructing necessary counters and shelves. Orders were placed for the painting of three big signs that will be hung on the City Hall above and to the right and left of the Washington street entrance.

Within two or three days a private telephone exchange will be installed with connections to every department. As the day for the official launching of the fourth Liberty Loan campaign approaches other features will be installed which will provide the committee with a working program on par with a large modern business institution with a tremendously big job ahead of itself.

General organization for the coming campaign, according to King, has been arranged. Only two or three department chairmen remain to be selected. When this has been done, says King, a vast, smooth-working machine complete in every detail will have been created.

King says that the coming campaign to "put over" the fourth Liberty loan in Oakland and Alameda county will be the most thorough the city has ever conducted by the committee. From the very beginning of the drive the committee will strive to better the record which was made in the city of the county in the third loan when this community went "over the top" of its allotment by a big margin. According to the United States Treasury Department Alameda county occupied a conspicuous position in the foremost rank of the various communities of the entire country in the matter of the distribution of Liberty bonds during the third loan. It is that record that King says the committee is determined to improve during the flotation of the fourth loan.

Gasless (Not) Sunday—By F. Fox

tion will be made within the next few days by Executive Chairman King. This morning King made known the following appointments as county chairmen in the various districts:

General chairman, W. W. Garthwaite; executive chairman, J. H. King; Alameda, Frank Otto; Berkeley, W. F. Morish; San Leandro, A. S. Weaver; Hayward, John A. Park; Emeryville, C. L. Barham; Alameda, August May; Center ville, John G. Mattos Jr.; Niles, Chas. Evans; Livermore, H. S. Goodell; Irvington, John R. Blinco; Mission San Jose, J. E. Rogers; Warm Springs, Manuel Brown; Alviso, Manuel George; Decoto,

Henry May; Pleasanton, Chas. A. Gale; Newark, Louis Rusch.

"In all parts of the county," said King, "there is a keen desire to get into action. The county chairmen report their various districts as being anxious to begin the campaign. As in the third loan the drive will be marked by considerable rivalry between the various districts for honor flags, and the distinction of being the first district of going 'over the top' of its specified allotment. Many of the chairmen state that their own local committees have been organized and that all that is lacking is official word to launch the drive."
